PARTNERS

Dear students and pupils,
We invite you to learn all about our college and the young people who are already forging their future profession with us!

Choosing the right educational institution for you is the starting point in taking the right road for your future life. Every school-leaver should consider this issue very carefully when deciding on their future.

St. Petersburg Police College is the first educational institution in Russia to provide integrated training for law enforcement personnel. Our college combines the best traditions of a classical state education with international systems of training police officers as experienced abroad. Our college diploma allows our graduates to work for various state bodies and institutions as well as for many commercial enterprises.

The phrase "a theory is dead without practice" is reflected in full in our educational process. The students of St. Petersburg Police College study the theory of the subject before putting that knowledge in to practice by going on work experience in many of the law enforcement bodies of St. Petersburg and abroad. Our students learn to use firearms, studying the principles of self-defence, skydive with a parachute, take part in scuba diving and learning many, many more things that enable our students to get ready for dealing with many specific and interesting practical tasks.
